Assignment 5: Portrait

Due: Jan 23rd

10 Points

*“A good portrait is one that says something about the person.
We usually see parts of ourselves in others, so a good portrait speaks to us. It tells us a story” – Steve McCurry*

This assignment is to create an environmental portrait of someone that you can pose (make sure your subject is a person) Look for an interesting setting to photograph your subject and think of composition using rule of thirds and shallow depth of field..

The portrait needs to have a connection to that reveal the subject's personality. Pay close attention to the work environment making sure no elements distract from the subject. Take a variety of poses and take a few photos of 2 people together. You might consider using props; make sure a few of the images have the subject looking at the camera. Be creative and have fun with you subjects.
